HELP WANTED-FEMALE

MISS GREGORY'S TALKS TO YOUNG WOMEN NUMBER 56

Of the many lines of activity Of the many lines of activity that are now open to women there is none that offers so many inducements as that of a telephone operator. Of course there are professions to which a woman may aspire after years of study, but I am speaking of work that any normal young woman without previous training may undertake.

The C. & P. Telephone Co. make ample provision for the rest and recreation of its operators, well knowing that good health is an asset to the company.

But it is not alone in the lightness of the labor that the profession of telephone operator is attractive. It is an easily learned profession, the training department is in charge of competent instructors and the novice is carried by easy stages through the mysteries of operating until they are no longer mysteries. She is generously paid during this instruction period.

No prospective operator need

No prospective operator need fear that she will not be able to work in a busy exchange; when she has graduated from this department she finds nothing new to contend with when she takes up her regular duties.

to contend with when she takes up her regular duties.

The scale of wages paid C. & P. Teiephone operators is generous, and in addition handsome bonuses are paid for continuous service. Every provision for the comfort of the operators has been made. There is no need of going out in cold or rainy weather for lunch, as the company supplies hot and appetizing meals for a nominal price. These menus are changed daily, and it is certain that the meals could not be duplicated for fifty cents in the average restaurant. Comfortable rest rooms are provided, competent medical attention is at hand in case of emergency, and in every way possible the company has sought to make not only the work, but the quarters in which the work is performed attractive.

I should like to tell you much

I should like to tell you much nore about this profession, but I have run along at too great a length already. Why not drop in and see me and let me tell you more about it? I shall be glad to see you at any time.
